Dates of future meetings

23rd June 2010 (Mid Wales – location and time to be decided). This will be an important meeting at which we will prioritise where and what are the main actions required in the Welsh uplands to conserve/restore habitats and species. This will provide a priority list for LBAPs, NGOs and statutory bodies for action in the uplands and help to focus resources such as the potential future new WBP “Biodiversity Grant” onto the most urgent requirements. I would urge you all to attend as our discussions should produce very influential guidance for upland conservation in Wales in the next few years. We will be contacting you all in the next few months for information and input to prepare for this.

2nd November 2010 (could change and become an “overnighter” if we go on location to a “site of action” & combine with a formal meeting – to be discussed further at June meeting)
